Introduction

This booklet is all about you, a person living with Alzheimer’s disease or other dementia.

Although you have a form of dementia, you are still the same person you have always been. This booklet is designed to focus on the positive: what you are good at rather than what is no longer possible.

You and your primary caregiver* know what makes you feel comfortable better than anyone. By answering the questions in this booklet, you will have a record of what makes you content and at ease that can be used when your primary caregiver cannot be with you and others need to provide care and support. Anyone can use this booklet to give you the best day possible now and as the disease progresses.

The first section of this booklet is designed to help someone new to supporting you get to know you better. It will also suggest conversation topics that may make you feel more at ease and contribute to more enjoyable times together.

Other sections of this booklet allow you and your caregiver to outline your usual habits: your daily routines, your likes and dislikes and what makes you enjoy each day. This information will help new caregivers maintain the routines that give you a sense of security, comfort and pleasure.

When completing this booklet, always keep in mind the main purpose: to give as clear a picture as possible of you to help others provide care when the person who usually supports you is unavailable.

To help others provide effective care, keep this book in an easy-to-find location. You and your caregivers can review it from time to time to note changes and plan for the future. There are replacement pages at the back that you can use to make any updates or changes.

*The term “caregiver” is used throughout this booklet to mean anyone who supports you.

Medications (attach list, if necessary) – include dosage and frequency

This section is like a photograph. Try to use as much detail as you can to give readers a real sense of your personality.

My personal life

How do you like to be addressed? (e.g. nickname, Mr., Mrs., Miss, first name)

When were you born? _____

Where? _____

Single/married/partner/longstanding relationship(s) with _____

Name: _____

We've been together since _____ (year)

Where have you lived?

Describe this relationship (e.g. loving, difficult, supportive)

Children (names and where they are now living)

Are they involved in your life now? If so, how?

Do you have any pets? If so, what are their names?

In the past

What kind of jobs did you have? (e.g. homemaker, lawyer, nurse, electrician, teacher)

How do you feel about the job(s) you have done? (e.g. proud, satisfied, indifferent)

If you were asked about the major milestones in your life, what would you likely talk about? (e.g. major life events, favourite places visited)

Likes and dislikes

What makes you physically more comfortable? (e.g. always have glasses on, have a hearing aid in, daily lotion to prevent dry skin, toe spacers)

What makes you happy? (e.g. conversation topics, activities, sports, music performances, being around children/animals)

What do you dislike? (e.g. foods, activities, topics of conversation, music, smells)

What comforts you when you're upset?

What frightens you?

Life story (Please describe any other details of your life that would help create a full picture of you as a "whole person." What would you want others to know about you?)

A typical day

Routine is important for all of us, but can be especially helpful for a person with dementia.

Writing down your daily routine will help you see how you spend your time and help others who might be providing care.

Try to look at your care through the eyes of someone who has never met you before. Do you like to sleep in, have a bath in the evening, or go for a daily walk?

Use this section to describe regular daytime activities. Include activities you are involved in as well as your caregiver. Include anything that provides pleasure, comfort, or something you particularly don't like.

Morning (usual wake up time _____). How do you start your day?

Afternoon

Evening

Night (usual bedtime _____)

Enjoying each day

A person living with dementia is just like everyone else, a whole person with likes and dislikes, opinions, values and experience. Though some skills are lost as the disease progresses, many remain. Here are some activities that may bring you pleasure and will help you continue to live a full life while adding enjoyment to time spent with others.

Help with daily living

How much help, if any, do you need with routine daily activities such as dressing, bathing or getting in and out of bed?

The chart on the next page lists typical routine daily activities. Feel free to change the chart to include activities that apply to you.

Where you are able to be completely independent, write “no help needed.” When you need help, note how much help you need.

The “Useful tips” section is a good place for caregivers to note the degree of stress the activity creates and what special approaches might be helpful.

Here is a sample chart to guide you.

Note: The questions in this section are designed to be answered by your primary caregiver. Your input will be valuable to give the best information possible.

Alzheimer's disease and other dementias progress over time. As the disease progresses, your abilities will change.

The information in this section will help anyone supporting you know what these changes are and how they affect your mood, behaviour and abilities. Your caregiver can suggest ways that help you feel content, engaged and secure. For example – Is there a special approach that helps? Does your behaviour change only at certain times? Are there warning signs?

Below are examples of common situations.

The term "family member" is used to mean anyone with dementia whom you support.

Unsafe walking (e.g. "wandering")

Does your family member walk outside in ways that are unsafe? (e.g. will go out in winter wearing only a dressing gown) Yes No

If yes, what safety precautions do you use? (e.g. camouflaged doors, ID bracelet, regular walks with a neighbour)

Do they become upset when returned home? Yes No

If yes, is there a special approach to use to help them feel calm?

Are they registered with the MedicAlert® Safely Home® program? Yes No

If yes, what is the number of your local police station if they become lost? _____.

What is their MedicAlert® Safely Home® ID bracelet #? _____.

Night time restlessness

Does this occur? Yes No

If "yes," what safety precautions do you use? (e.g. nightlight, disconnecting stove or turning off water valves before retiring at night, locking closet door to prevent dressing at odd hours)

What helps to re-settle the person?

Restlessness

Does this occur at certain times of the day?

What helps to settle the person? (e.g. a walk or a distracting activity)

Anger or agitation

Does this occur at certain times? (e.g. bathing, meal time)

What usually triggers this? (e.g. rushing the person, too many instructions given at once)

When anger occurs, what responses tend to be helpful?

Does your family member suspect people of stealing from them? How do you deal with this?

Repetition

When they repeat themselves over and over, what responses are helpful?

Hiding or hoarding articles

Are there particular places to check where your family member “stores” specific things?

Does anything need to be kept out of reach? (e.g. knives, tools such as electronic drills)

Safety precautions

List any additional information that is important for other caregivers. (e.g. doors or cupboards to be kept locked, such as where toxic cleaning fluids are stored)

Are any other safety measures being used? (e.g. alarms, GPS locating devices)

Communication

If your family member has difficulty understanding and following instructions, what do you do? Is there anything that helps?

To learn more about Communication, please read the Alzheimer Society’s information sheet on the topic, available at www.alzheimer.ca/communication.

Are there any other areas of concern and/or tips for care that comfort, reassure, support the person?

Alzheimer’s disease follows a number of stages. While these stages can be somewhat predictable, the course of the disease will vary from person to person. Changes in physical condition, such as flu, pneumonia, infection or constipation can often result in changes in mood and behaviour. By noting changes, the person who supports you may be able to determine a pattern and prevent a situation from getting worse. It is particularly important to keep a record when medications are used. Recording these items in a journal will help caregivers when they are talking with your doctor. Caregivers should take this “All about me” booklet to your appointments.

Anyone providing care can use these pages to record all the events in a particular day.

Here is a sample journal.

Date	Comments
Mar. 30/12	To bed 8:30 p.m. -- up again 2:00 a.m. Wandered through house, could not settle down. Did not recognize me.
Mar. 31/12	Another night with no sleep!
Apr. 1/12	Still won't sleep. Now dozing all day. Doctor's appointment April 4/12.
Apr. 5/12	On new medication for an infection. Slept till 6:00 a.m. I'm trying to keep her awake during the day. I think things are getting better.
